General Shield Service

Cockroaches are probably the worst household pests one can have to deal with as they come in search of food and hide themselves well enough to not be seen until a good population is present in your home. They hide in shelves, cabinets, drains, within kitchen appliances, in electrical control boxes and wherever else they see fit. They can also contaminate food left out, which can cause several diseases in human beings.

Termite Shield Service

Subterranean termites can cause the most damage of any termite species. These termites build distinctive tunnels, often referred to as "mud tubes," to reach food sources and protect themselves from open air. They eat wood 24 hours a day, seven days a week, using their saw-toothed jaws to bite off small fragments of wood one piece at a time. Over time, subterranean termites can critically damage a building structure, sometimes causing a total collapse

Bedbugs Shield Service

Bed bugs can be the most annoying of creatures as they're extremely tiny and difficult to spot. What's worse is that while they don't spread diseases in humans, they can create a massive nuisance due to bites at night. Bed bug bites are usually in patterns like a line, circle or within a certain area of your body, since they're small and travel slowly. Bed bugs control is of utmost importance as the longer we wait, the more problematic it could become.

Rodent Shield Service

Some pests are small and more often than now, out of our way. As for rodents, it becomes a bit scary to even enter our homes if we know these guys are around. Varying in size, these pests have continuously growing incisors in each of the upper and lower jaws. Also known as the Norway Rat, these pests are a physical threat to family members as well.

Mosquito Shield Service

Mosquitoes are present in tropical and sub-tropical regions across the world and that's why in India too, knowing effective methods of mosquito control is equally important.

Mosquito populations increase mostly when they have stagnant water for breeding, they spread diseases like Malaria and Dengue throughout the year!

Virus Shield Service

Viruses are microscopic parasites, generally much smaller than bacteria. They lack the capacity to thrive and reproduce outside of a host body.

Predominantly, viruses have a reputation for being the cause of contagion. Widespread events of disease and death have no doubt bolstered such a reputation.

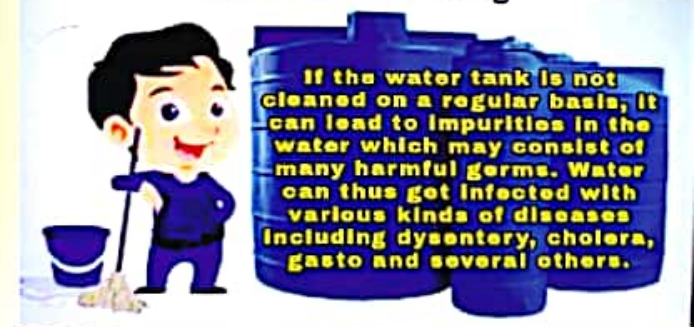

Birds Shield Service

Birds are beautiful like kingfisher and peacocks but did you know they can be very dangerous as well for human beings. Pigeons, sea gulls and a few similar birds can quite literally cover your home with filthy droppings.

These droppings stink the place up but they also carry dangerous bacteria, toxic chemicals and spores. More than 60 known transmittable diseases including viral pneumonia, Viral influenza, West Nile disease and salmonella are spread by common urban and rural birds. The bacteria found in the waste of many species of birds create a huge health risk to those living in close proximity to them.
